ANNOUNCES AS

Republican

CANDIDATE FOR

House of Representatives

POST No. 2

Hancock and Pearl River Counties

For some time I have been concerned over the increasing Federal and state controls over the working man's effort to earn a good living under the free enterprise system. I have been continually alarmed over the waste and financial excesses in our state and county governments. During this campaign we will give the taxpayer of the district a platform for a change with no obligations required to the existing political machine. I am for the two party system in Mississippi.

I am particularly happy to be on the same team with our Republican candidate for Governor, Ruben Phillips.

Goss married to the former Wanda Finch of Mobile and they have three children. He is a director of the Hancock County Farm Bureau and the Mississippi Producers Association.

FHA $s made ready for building

Rural housing loans, for construction of dwellings, farm buildings, and essential farm buildings, can be obtained from the Farmers Home Administration, according to Max H. Stone, FHA supervisor, Agricultural Center, New Orleans, Bay St. Louis. The loans are made to farmers and other residents of rural areas and small rural communities with populations of less than 5,000 which are not part of an urban area. Special provisions are in effect for rural senior citizens of low income families who are 62 years of age or older.

Stone said the loans are made only to those who are unable to obtain needed credit from private or cooperative lending institutions. He said the administration also makes insured loans to farmers, states or political subdivisions, public or private non-profit associations for the construction of housing for domestic farm labor. Money is also available to provide rental or cooperatively owned housing in rural areas for rural residents including senior citizens. The agency makes loans for farm and home operating expenses, buying and developing family farms, water development, rural water and waste disposal systems, development of small watershed projects and for emergency credit needs.

Snakes stop job being routine

Airman 1st Class Arnie J. Laneaux, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Williams of 539 Webster St., with the USAF in Vietnam, expects the unexpected on his essential but what should be a routine job.

At Ban Me Thuot East Airport in the inland plateau area of Nha Trang, he is a member of an eight-man team that processes passengers and cargo through the airport for some 25 flights a day.

Providing combat support, he and his team handle all types of cargo. However, they never know what they'll find in arriving aircraft's cargo compartments and even the proverbial kitchen sink has turned up.

Undoubtedly, the most troublesome "passengers" Airman Laneaux encounters are would-be stowaway snakes that coil in pallets awaiting airlift. On one occasion, a snake crawled into the nose wheel well of a C-7A Caribou. It took some

sewer charges, talks on streets

Commissioner Council said yesterday that 987 connections had been made to the sewer system out of about 2,700, although 1,187 permits had been issued, noting that only about a dozen plumbers were available for this work. Deadline was Oct. 1 and sewer charges, one-half of the water bill, began on that date whether or not connections were made, legal advertising to that effect having been made for more than six months.

As to the street situation, commissioner Cyril Glover said the city's new engineers, R.J. Richard, Jr., and associates, had completed a preliminary survey and are expected to attend council's meeting Monday with preliminary cost estimates. The Richard firm has been studying the streets, including the annexed area, for the last month.

Curet said he intended to ask area residents to assist in law enforcement and report any suspicious acts to him.

Little area development group that several proposed deputies were already attending the Area Development Academy in Jackson at their own expense. Curet said he hoped to have all deputies in place by the end of the month.

STILL RAIDED

(Cont. from Page 1-A.) The type of odor is similar to that emitting from hog pen and many stiffs are set up near pigs to cover the stench of manufacture, he said. The tax agent said his department had raided other house stills in Waveland, Clearmont Harbor and Biloxi in the past. He said it was a favorite lodge of moonshiners to set up inside houses somewhat remotely situated from neighbors or used only as a summer home. Too, houses moving slowly inside a new real estate development come in for their share of moonshiner attention and several new houses have been ruined in this manner. Doyle said the main trouble with the product, apart from its avoidance of tax, is generally that the whiskey picks up lead salts in the course of manufacture. These have much the same effect on humans as arsenic poisoning, he said. Although the Julia Street operation had a copper coil, some use truck radiators for condensing the steam after the cooking process. This, to hasten cooling time and increase production rate. But the radiators provide a deadly source of lead. Still, Doyle said, moonshiners say the stuff is made to sell not to drink. He said his department has a film, Still in Business, in color available to any group wishing to see the full story. It runs for 25 minutes and is equipped with sound track.

BAKER

(Cont. from Page 1-A.) consideration and asked that they continue such action. Also that they give the new members the benefit of their years of experience in handling other businesses. Beat 2 supervisor Dolph Keller, the only member remaining on the board for another term, made both motions regarding Baker and Dean seconded. The present contract expires on Oct. 28 so the term approved Monday will run from that time through Feb. 5, 1968, somewhat short of six months originally sought by Elliott who pointed out that he did not want to delay the project nor was he opposed to the contract but that he had never seen it and would appreciate time to study it.

If we could have a little more of this weather, don't blame your indolent reporter; place the fault on the weather. Most come down with "spring fever" in late April or about the first of May, but of course, we are never expected to do anything really normal, anyway. When October rolls around with sapphire bright skies and cooling breezes, the garden club members begin to feel the tug of the "spring fever" again, and we could care less whether anything ever gets accomplished. It's just a great way to begin one's work.

However, as the "spring fever" (also, might take a firm view of prolonged loafing, would rather get busy.

Gardeners play host to state

One of the nicest recent luncheons was last Wednesday at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club when B-W Garden Club officers and members played hostess to 133 garden club members from all over Mississippi. This was the first time the state group had visited in the Bay and the "girls" were all out in decorations and good food for the affair.

Few big parties of service, but it's just the hull before, etc. Upcoming in the next few weeks are the annual Harvest Ball at the Legion home; the K. K. masquerade ball; Nereida's costume dance; St. Clare's Parish hall dance and the first Underella Ball to be given at the National Guard Armory on Nov. 11, by members of the Junior Auxiliary.

Belle (Mrs. Charles) Peterson had her houseguest last week her sister, Mildred Ross of Algiers.

Get well wishes are extended

Speaking of Belle and Mildred, reminds us to send their brother, John Boudages, a get well wish. John was taken to Hancock General for treatment and rests last Tuesday.

Beulah Lachner and Florence Boegele are in line for similar greetings. Beulah had a recurrence of back trouble, due to a whiplash injury suffered several years ago; and Florence fractured her collar bone in a fall at her Clermont Harbor home last week.

Snake alarm

Gerald Rose called to report killing a three foot long cotton mouth water moccasin in the drain where so many children play at Mollere Drive and Central Avenue. He thought perhaps parents might warn their offspring of the danger. Many newcomers think snakes are in habitation at this time of the year, when in reality, they're most dangerous, as they're in the process of shedding skins; this blinds the reptile temporarily and he, or she, for that matter, will curl up or any sound when they could normally see someone coming and move out of the way.

Bobbie Sere of Baton Rouge paid a visit to the Bay on Monday, lunching at the Broadview, with Caroline Klefer and Eunice Shaw.

Cigarfest

Wyle Heath is passing out cigars after lovely wife, Allison, presented him with an eight pound, one ounce daughter on Wednesday, Oct. 4. Miss Shaw, or maybe it's to be spelled Shawna; was born at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. Bobbie and Maxie Trelles are proud grandparents.

Speaking of grandparents, Teddy Stechmann will hold the award for the doctored. He's still peeling out cigars wrapped in special paper decorated with tiny blue hearts holding little bundles of joy.

Animal notes

Just about time to remind all pet owners that if you haven't given your dog a rabies shot, several cases have been reported. And don't forget, a yearly booster is necessary for continued immunity.

Ruth and W.C. Frismon have eight lovely little puppies they will give to anyone prepared to give them a good home. The mother is a registered min-

Gripe corner

For years we've only had to gripe just about an obvious traffic hazard and it was remedied; but we seem to have lost our touch. The railroad spur crossing on Central Avenue at Industrial Enameling is, if anything, worse than ever before. That hole in the middle of the beach between St. Charles and Ballantine was still gaping Saturday. Maybe it's someone's idea of an answer to the population explosion!

Artie Russell is slowly getting into grandfather competition, but he's still no match for Dec Elliott or Ferdie Raymond. His sixth grandchild was born at 5:30 a.m. in a New Orleans hospital on Friday, Sept. 29. The young lady is his daughter, Hilda, and husband, Dr. Joe Morino's, fourth child and third daughter. She hadn't been christened when he received the news, but weighed seven pounds, eight ounces.

Julian Sharouse plans to enjoy a week's vacation in his Bay St. Louis summer home.

Louise (Mrs. Joe) Wymer reports her new granddaughter, Pat and Gene Watkins' third daughter, is of course adorable. She saw the new arrival when she returned another of their daughters, Cheryl, to her home after she had visited Louise and Joe while Pat was in the hospital. She also reports that Pat and Gene's new restaurant, E. Watkins, at 249 Dauphin St., New Orleans, which formally opened on Oct. 7, is just lovely.

Fishing notes

Edna Foyard reports picking up over 20 pounds of shrimp jumping in ditches from small to jumbo, in a short time last Friday. The catch was made between Cambria and Nicholson and Calumet Avenue.

Sue and Bob Harvey, who make their home on Pelicly, are among some of our more aggressive and interesting commentators. Bob is employed at McDonough Text Facility.

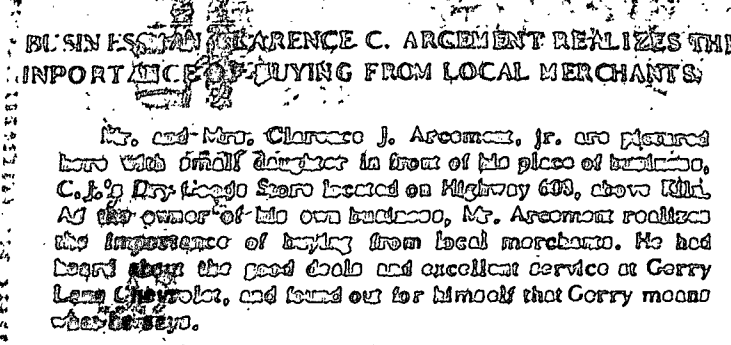

Fred Scourgeon is another recently arrived in our midst. He's a writer, more or less comb-reared.

We've been hearing all about the fun had by those taking in Solano football games via the Broadview speedsters but when we normally go reserved as John Dambrosio returned occasionally raving about what a great time he and grandson, John Pat, had on such an occasion, it's worthy of mention.

Hard luck tale of the week. Dean Smith had served over three years with the U.S. Marine Corps in Vietnam, returning to the States for only two brief leaves, during one of which he married his pretty wife, Joyce. He finally returned home for good, having outlived not even a bad scratch in booting the second day after his arrival, began running a cycling tempo course and to confound to Hancock General Hospital for treatment of some kind of jungle fever contracted when in service.

Bill and Gerald Cox left last Monday on their European jaunt, a girl from good friend Dolmar Wilson, carried by rolling seas of our coastwaters.

Members of the Women's Society for Christian Service are busy making quonset, gooseberry wine, olives and molasses candy, cakes and floral arrangements for their bazaar.

At garden meeting

Delegates greeted by state president

Mrs. Sam Peeples, Vicksburg, state president of Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., greeted guests, and Mrs. W.B. Barnes, district deputy, conducted the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Bay St. Louis, Wednesday, at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Reuben Gray, president, Coast Council of Garden Clubs; and Mrs. Joseph Viguerie, president, Bay-Waveland Garden Club, welcomed guests on behalf of the group.

Girl Scout Janell Ladner, Kathy Barnes, Melissa Legarde, Patty Brammer and Gail Longo, all Troop 197, were color guards for the flag presentation. The flag, a memorial gift to the club, was used on this occasion for the first time.

Coffee was served prior to the morning session in the lounge, which was decorated with pyrotechnic arrangements in various shapes as well as several types of antique glass and earthenware.

Taking advantage of the October date, Mmes. Dan, M. Russell, Jr. and John P. Stern, chose luncheon table decorations in autumn colors with real pumpkins filled with gold and bronze chrysanthemums, Mums and place cards were in keeping and spaghetti supper to be held in the fellowship hall on Friday, Oct. 20, from 1 until 8 p.m.

In sympathy

Deep sympathy is extended to Rose Richard upon the passing of her beloved Charlie, Charlie, one of our very special friends, was one of those rare people whom everyone appeared to like and respect. He will be sorely missed by the entire community.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - Fluffy talked squirrels jumping from limb to limb, trees to trees; their little paws burning with peano to be chased for comely colder months; bright orange porcupines all but covering the ground beneath beginning to bare branches; violet blue wild alyssum, blooming all over the place, and the raring sound of rakes as the annual battle of the leaves gets under way.

Yule party in plans of Woodmen group

Ladies of Woodmen of the World met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Dan Ziegler, president, who also conducted the business session.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party. The date and place to be announced at the next meeting.

Game prizes were won by May Tolson and Mmes. C.L. Henry and Watson Johns.

Major and Mrs. Billy Coffee and children made a nice catch of fish last Sunday in a private lake. The major enjoys both hunting and fishing and was out Sunday sket shooting in preparation for the dove season.

Mrs. and Mrs. Honey Schwall, both ardent fishermen, caught some big black bass Sunday until the heavy rains came along.

Mrs. Sam Peeples, Vicksburg, state president of Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., greeted guests, and Mrs. W.B. Barnes, district deputy, conducted the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Bay St. Louis, Wednesday, at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Reuben Gray, president, Coast Council of Garden Clubs; and Mrs. Joseph Viguerie, president, Bay-Waveland Garden Club, welcomed guests on behalf of the group.

Girl Scout Janell Ladner, Kathy Barnes, Melissa Legarde, Patty Brammer and Gail Longo, all Troop 197, were color guards for the flag presentation. The flag, a memorial gift to the club, was used on this occasion for the first time.

Coffee was served prior to the morning session in the lounge, which was decorated with pyrotechnic arrangements in various shapes as well as several types of antique glass and earthenware.

Taking advantage of the October date, Mmes. Dan, M. Russell, Jr. and John P. Stern, chose luncheon table decorations in autumn colors with real pumpkins filled with gold and bronze chrysanthemums, Mums and place cards were in keeping and spaghetti supper to be held in the fellowship hall on Friday, Oct. 20, from 1 until 8 p.m.

In sympathy

Deep sympathy is extended to Rose Richard upon the passing of her beloved Charlie, Charlie, one of our very special friends, was one of those rare people whom everyone appeared to like and respect. He will be sorely missed by the entire community.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - Fluffy talked squirrels jumping from limb to limb, trees to trees; their little paws burning with peano to be chased for comely colder months; bright orange porcupines all but covering the ground beneath beginning to bare branches; violet blue wild alyssum, blooming all over the place, and the raring sound of rakes as the annual battle of the leaves gets under way.

Now face Hawks

Rebels saddle Tigers, ride to 34-2 victory

Overwhelmed in every position, Bay High's Tigers got rolled over by the Harrison Central Red Rebels 34-2 Friday night in Tiger Stadium ending the Tigers' two-game losing streak.

This Friday the Tigers traveled to Long Beach to clash with a traditional rival of many years, Coach Lance Lumping having coached the Rebels before moving to Bay High. The Rebels have also had their troubles this year and have a 2-2 record while Bay High is 2-3.

Bay High's offense was held to a mere 14 points, while the Rebels scored 34 points in the fourth quarter.

The Rebels' defense was superb, intercepting six passes, covering up the Rebels' running game and blocking the Tigers' punts to win their fourth game in five outings.

First quarter convert reverse aids JV defeat

Hampered by the loss of ace quarterback Truman Schultz, Bay Junior High's grid team tasted defeat for the first time in four outings this season Thursday losing to Harrison Central 13-0 in the latter's stadium.

Schultz was injured in the previous week's game against Hancock North Central and head coach Woody Alliston said early this week doubted whether Schultz would play Thursday against Long Beach. Game time is 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Arthur Miller, subbing for Schultz in the signal-calling spot, did a fine job but the young Tigers suffered some bad breaks, a costly one in the first quarter when a punt was blocked and a Red Rebel covered the ball in the Tiger end zone for six points. The other Harrison tally came in the third period on a long pass play.

The Tigers got several good drives going throughout the game but the Red Rebel's big defense stopped each one. Once, and coughed up the ball which was recovered by a Tiger. But after a short period Bay High humbled and Harrison recovered on the Tiger 32.

After a punt exchange Bay High got possession on its 15 and attempting to pass out of longer quarterback Gene Fortapa took the air but an interception on the 30 led to another Red TD.

Trying to get on the scoreboard, the Tigers threatened late in the final quarter when Jerry Stephens faked a punt and ran to Harrison Central's 37 and moved to the 20 with first down but Fortapa was pushed back to the 27. A short pass and a penalty put it on the 9 but that's as close as the Tigers could get. After taking possession on downs, Harrison Central attempted to punt but the pass from center was high and the Tigers recovered the rolling pigskin in the end zone.

Statistics with Bay High first: first downs, 3-10; passes, 23-17; completed, 8-10; int. by, 0-0; fumbles, 2-0; lost, 2-0; yards rushing, 10-165; passing, 130-150; total, 120-315; punts, 4-3; penalties, 90-140.

In the second quarter they drove inside the Rebels' 10 but lost possession after dropping two passes in the end zone.

The junior Tiger defense, led by Wayne Duchkar, David Manasco, Aubrey Fleming, Myron Oliver, Steve Smith, Wes McFarland, Jim Wagner, Louis Rhinehardt, Melvin Soffra, Emmett White, Raymond Starita and Ken Strutz, has only been scored on once this year excluding blocked punts, etc.
